

fonejaeker

A QUIRKY AND DARING BUT VERY FUNNY COMEDY
All calls featured are REAL and performed by one man...

fonejack / v.l. to seize control of a telephone conversation by farce esp. to divert it from reason and logic.

The Fonejacker (Kayvan Novak) is the brains and voice behind an array of wildly inventive characters who make prank calls to the unsuspecting public. Often outrageous, sometimes pushing the limits but always original and scarily believable, these characters include Terry Tibbs, the car salesman who makes dodgy dealing an artform; Mr Miggins, the old man who can't get to grips with the modern world; Mr Doovdé, who talks in bewildering abbreviations; and a highly intelligent and talkative mouse, appealing to members of the public on how to rid himself of an evil cat.

The calls are visualized for TV using animated pictures of the characters, or by undercover filming in which a disguised Novak is seen making the call.

Combining an anarchic feel with hugely funny material, this show appeals to an audience that aren't afraid to be shocked.

Once you've seen Fonejacker, you'll never take a cold call again!

Produced by
Hat Trick Productions for E4

Performed by Kayvan Novak (Syrianna, Spooks)

Written and directed by
Kayvan Novak and Ed Tracy

Series 1 (6 x ½ hr), Series 2 (6 x ½ hr)
Total: 12 x ½ hr

