WITH HUGH DENNIS

Hugh Dennis is borrowing the keys to the MAMMOTH British homes you never knew existed. From the bombastic, to the beautiful, to the downright bonkers.

Think your two bed semi-detached is pretty roomy? Feel like your barn conversion is the last word in spacious living? Well think again...

From the colossal Broughton Hall with its resident ghosts, to the jaw-dropping Thorne Island coastal fort and the one man and dog who call it home, Britain is bristling with largely unknown residential behemoths that take the breath away with their harebrained audacity and sheer scale.

Now, Hugh Dennis, one of the nation's favourite comedians, is about to explore the very largest and zaniest of these homes in a celebration of everything massive, unusual and domestic.

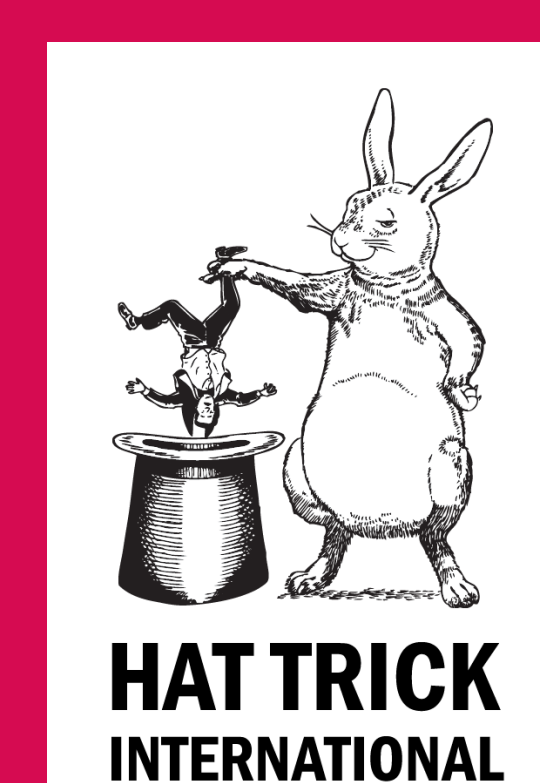

From madcap visionaries of design, to astonishing conversions, to eccentric owners opening their doors for the very first time, fasten your seatbelts for Huge Homes with Hugh Dennis - a mind boggling journey into a gargantuan domestic wonderland you had no idea was out there.
