

Ronnie Corbett shows just how potty people are about pets.

A life-long dog owner himself, Ronnie Corbett (The Two Ronnies) shares a passion for animals and takes viewers into an extraordinary and entertaining world, where pet owners and breeders put their beloved animals centre stage and are proud to show us why their animals are the very best.

The series follows breeders as they compete in colourful shows, races or trials. We meet rival dog groomers as they enter a "creative grooming" competition with their pet poodles, who are cut and coloured into surreal and colourful designs, dogs getting married and some of the most impressive cats around.

Ronnie himself has a new rescue dog called Baz. Unlike Ronnie's previous pets, Baz is nervous and timid, so he calls in Candy, a dog behaviour expert, to help him understand his pet. Can Candy give Ronnie and his wife, Anne, a few tips to give Baz more confidence?

We also meet pet owners whose animals have celebrity status, from diva dogs and cats, to pampered mini-pigs, miniature horses, camels and even skunks. This series reveals the lengths to which some people will go to for their pets.
